II. Read the following carefully and answer the questions that follow:

India has a large number of historical buildings. These buildings stand as a proof of our art and culture. A visit to any of the historical buildings is both informative and exciting. It fills one's mind with the details of the past-rulers, their style of living, their dress, food habits as well as the architecture of the past. Most of the historical buildings were built during the Mughal period. No book of history can let us learn as much about a historical building as we do after seeing it. Out of all the historical buildings, the Taj is really worth-seeing. It is one of the wonders of the world. It was built by the Mughal Emperor, Shah Jahan, in memory of his beloved wife Mumtaz Mahal in Agra. The Taj which is built of white and yellow marble is like a dream house in marble. It is an emblem of true love. There are cypress trees, flowers and fountains on the area surrounding it. It is built on the banks of river Yamuna. The Taj looks beautiful in a moonlit night. Everybody who visits the Taj is enchanted by its beauty.

4M

- Why is the Taj called an emblem of love?
- Why do people prefer watching the Taj in a moonlit night?
- What is the Taj made of?
- Who was Sha Jahan?
